DEFINITIONS OF CONDUCT TITLE IX APPLIES TO:

Sexual assault is a form of sexual violence and is an actual or attempted sexual contact with another person without that person's consent. Sexual assault includes, but is not limited to:

1. Intentional touching of another person's intimate parts without that person's consent; or
2. Other intentional sexual contact with another person without that person's consent; or
3. Coercing, forcing or attempting to coerce or force a person to touch another person's intimate parts without that person's consent; or
4. Sexual contact or behavior that occurs without consent.

Dating violence is a form of sexual misconduct and is committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the complainant.

Domestic violence is a form of sexual misconduct and is abuse committed against someone who is a current or former spouse, current or former cohabitant with the complainant as a spouse or intimate partner, someone with whom the respondent has a child, someone with whom the respondent has or had an intimate dating or engagement relationship, or a person similarly situated under California domestic or family violence law.

Stalking is a repeated course of conduct directed at a specific person that places that person in reasonable fear for his/her or others' safety, or to suffer substantial emotional distress. A reasonable person means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with a similar identity to the complainant.

Sexual harassment is unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that creates an intimidating or hostile academic or working environment.
